

Please try to complete at least 4 of these activities over this half term at school.

They link to our topics 'Sunshine and Sunflowers' and 'Shadows and Reflections'.

Remember to share your home learning on Tapestry so that I can see it!

RECEPTION Home Learning: Summer 1

Go outside on a sunny day and draw around or take a photograph of your shadow. Repeat at different times of the day. Explain what happened to your shadow as the time passed.

Share the Shadows and Reflections Did You Know? facts and key words (attached in email) with a family member. Choose three of the keywords and write a short sentence using each.

Study Vincent Van Gogh's Sunflower artwork. Create your own sunflower painting or picture. You could also visit the CBeebies website and listen to the Enna Gee's Adventures podcast, Here Comes The Sunflower, as you paint or draw.

Pick a daisy. Gently take apart the daisy by pulling the flower off the stem. Then, carefully remove the petals from the flower. Draw a picture of the daisy's parts and label them.

Watch Butterfly: A Life by National Geographic on YouTube to see how a caterpillar becomes a butterfly. Paint your own butterfly - think about the symmetry of a butterfly's wings.

There are lots of different animals living in your garden and local environment. Have a look under leaves, rocks and stones and record the minibeasts you find. Remember to treat the animals you find with care.
